HAMMOND ANNOUNCES 50 PER CENT FEE CUT

Students Assured Federal Aid; NYA Headed By Flint

National Youth Group Will Replace Old FERA System

Calvin C. Flint, newly appointed dean of men, will head Santa Ana junior college's chapter of the National Youth Administration. This announcement was confirmed by Flint last week upon his return from an extended tour of Europe.

NYA, as the new student relief council is called, is slated to replace the old FERA that was used throughout the nation last year. In connection with President Roosevelt's program for the aiding of all youths between the ages of 16 and 26. Social students will receive government relief at the same average wage that was paid last year.

Average Wage

Acording to Flint the maximum amount of time that can be spent by any student will net him about $20 per month. No minimum has been set, as in this way the money can be spread over a wider area. Last year the average wage was $8 per month with some needy students receiving as much as $15 and $20.

While working for the NYA students must maintain their academic standard, it was stated by Flint. The worker must be receiving a C average in at least 12 units of regular college work or

Associated Student Presidents Get Scholarships

Two full year scholarships have been awarded to the Associated Student presidents for the past school year, it was learned by El Don today.

Robert Tannenbaum, prexy for the first semester last year was awarded paid tuition at the University of Chicago. This former Buccaneer left last Tuesday for the lakeshore city and plans to complete his course in business administration.

George Robertson, student leader last semester, has accepted the full year's scholarship tendered him by the University of Southern California. Robertson, prominent in the engineering field, plans to take advanced work along that line.

Honor Seminar Courses Will Be Offered

Honor seminar courses will not be offered to Associated Students until the second semester, stated President D. K .Hammond today.

The honor seminars were begun last semester under the direction of Dean McKee Fisk, with approximately 40 students enrolling.

The courses were organized into three sections; namely, humanities, engineering, and science. J. Russell Bruff was adviser for the biological science group; H. O. Russell, physical science section; Thomas H. Glenn, humanities department; and Mrs. Jennie L. Tessmann, social science section.

The seminars are open to sophomores who pass the comprehensive examination.

Offer Board, Room For Women Students

Any women students who desire board and room or an apartment or places to work for this year are advised to see Mrs. Northcross, dean of women, as soon as possible.

This service has been offered to women in previous years with outstanding success, according to Mrs. Northcross.

The dean also stated that those who apply for help first will be given a wider and better choice of situations, and she urges that applications be made promptly.

Officials Extend Welcome To Frosh

Development

I am glad to extend to all a most cordial welcome. I trust that each and everyone of you come to the Santa Ana junior college with the faith to believe that education is after all the only remedy for the troubled conditions which prevail in the world today. You are living through a critical period in world history. The issues which will be decided in the next year or so will shape the course of human existence for the next half century. It is my hope that your studies here will develop your power of discrimination and understanding to the end that you make a definite contribution to human progress and civilization.—D. K. HAMMOND, Director of the college.

Wise Choice

Welcome to Santa Ana junior college and the varied college life the Associated Students offer you. We hope that you will enter our many scholastic, social, and athletic events. We of the Associated Students feel sure that you have made a wise choice in choosing Santa Ana college to continue your education. We want you to become one of us and share our life with us. The Associated Students are for you in anything you undertake. We

Coe Heads Associated Women Students For Current Semester

Dorothy Coe, sophomore, will act as president of the Associated Women students for the current semester. Other elective executives are Eunice Spicer and Helen Wilkie. They act as vice-president and secretary, respectively.

According to Mrs. Eleanor Northcross, adviser of the association, it is composed of all women students in the college and its purpose is to promote cooperation between them. Its object is to support all activities of the college.

Among the activities of the organization are teas given each semester for new women students, a mother's tea, and a women's choice formal dance. This affair was held at Legion hall, Huntington Beach, last year.

New Director

D. K. Hammond

Expanded Jaysee To Have Two New Buildings

Expansion of junior college facilities this year included the construction of a new bungalow and the outright purchase of another, the latter to be added to the science group near the gymnasium.

Thomas H. Glenn, head of the English department, has had his request for a separate building granted with the construction of Bungalow C. The building is situated west of the music building and will house all English classes.

Bungalow B is located on Sycamore street, immediately north of the geology laboratory, and will hold all the arts and crafts courses. Miss Lucinda M. Griffith newly appointed instructor, will have charge of this building.

Grade Points Designate Students Ability

Grade points are explained as a qualitative measure of work accomplished. They are used to designate the caliber of any individual's work in relation to another's.

This means that at the end of two years of junior college, any student who wishes to be eligible for a Junior certificate, must have made at least 64 grade points. This number of points will designate that said student has made a "C" average in 64 units of work.

Welcome and Good Luck!

El Don takes this opportunity to welcome all new students and faculty members who are here today for the first time.

We sincerely believe that you will like Santa Ana junior college and its people. Every individual connected with the college is ready to help you that your stay may be made more enjoyable and more profitable.

Unlike many other junior colleges in the state, Santa Ana jaysee has its own campus and is not affiliated with a high school. Its faculty is considered to be one of the finest in any junior college, and its buildings are fully equipped to serve your every need.

Today, El Don begins its twelfth year of publication on the local campus. During its years of livelihood the various staff members of the publication have always found Santa Ana college life to be of the best.

We are happy to have you here for Freshman Days. Welcome, and Good Luck!

Board Determines Tentative Price Of Student Tickets

Subject "A" Examination And Aptitude Test Given Free

Coupled with the news that all course fees have been slashed 50 per cent it was learned by El Don today that no charges will be made for the aptitude test and Subject A examination.

This cut in the formerly heavy fees now makes it possible for all students to buy Associated Student tickets, Director D. K. Hammond said here today. In addition incoming freshmen will no longer have to pay for the two entrance examinations that they are required to take. Both the aptitude test and the English exam will be offered free of charge.

Tickets to Cost $7

According to the new budget for the school year 1935-36, Associated Student tickets will cost $7. This price was set after college executive board action early this season. In actual value the tickets are much higher as they admit holders to all sports contests as well as all student functions. At the close of the second semester, ticket holders will receive their Del Anos free of charge. Members of the Associated Students will also receive free an issue of El Don each Friday. The regular price is five cents per copy.

Students Required To Submit Small Pictures

All students registered at Santa Ana junior college are required to hand in at the office a small picture of themselves, it was learned today from Carol Erskine, office secretary.

These pictures are used for purplaced in the permanent files of the junior college.

According to Miss Erskine grades for the first semester will be witheld until such a time as satisfactory pictures are received by the office. All students are requested to hand in their personal portraits as soon as possible in order to avoid confusion later in the semester.

Honor Society Gives Requirements For Membership

Alpha Gamma Sigma is a state scholastic honor society whose membership qualifications is a grade point average of two during the previous semester.

Last year, the club's outstanding activity was the state convention held here on April 13. Representatives of 15 junior colleges attended. Robert Tannenbaum, then president of the local chapter, automatically became state president.

The day's program included the general session and discussion groups in the morning at College hall, a luncheon at the Ebell clubhouse and dancing and cards in the gm lobby. Dr. Owen C. Coy, vice-president of the University of Southern California was featured speaker.

Flint Is Named Dean Of Men

With the announcement that D. K. Hammond has been named Director of Santa Ana junior college comes word that Calvin C. Flint will serve as dean of men.

Hammond, former jaysee president, has assumed the role of director and will have complete jurisdiction over all important matters. Flint, former social science instructor, has been elevated to the position of dean of men. In this capacity he will act as advisor to the college executive board.

From 1912-1916 Hammond was an instructor in the Santa Ana high school. In 1915 he became dean of the junior college and in 1916 was named president. He acted as principal of the local high school while acting as president of the jaysee.

Flint received his A. B. from Stanford in 1928, and earned his master's degree in '31. From Stanford he went on to do graduate work at Sorbonne, Paris. In 1929-30 he was working as a history assistant at Stanford. Moran junior college claimed him as an instructor during the years 1931-32 and he came here in 1934.

McKee Fisk, former dean, left this summer to do research work as Yale university. After receiving an instructorship from the eastern college he resigned his post here.

Government To Give Students Work

his name will be removed from the rolls.

The National Youth Administration was designed not only to aid assistance to high schooltooRoose the junior college student in need of help, but will also offer assistance to high school students of 16 or over. These students will receive a maximum wage of $6 per month. In aditional to educational work the NYA will provide vocational training for persons between the ages of 16 and 26.

State Investigations

The county SERA offices will make an investigation into the merits of each application, Flint continued. Under the direction of Miss Helen A. Cox case workers will be assigned to the position and will clasify the needs of all applicants.

Last year the FERA helped about 300 students here. Inasmuch as enrollment figures are expected to exceed those of last year, more positions wil be available.

Jaysee Alumni Group Looks Forward

Rated as one of the most active groups o fits kind in Southern California, Santa Ana junior college's alumni association is this year looking forward with anticipation to the printing of its third annual alumni edition of El Don, junior college weekly.

The idea of printing an alumni edition was formulated in 1933 by John "Sky" Dunlap, former editor of El Don and reporter for the Santa Ana Register and now affiliated with the United Press, Salt Lake City division. It was under his supervision that the first issue rolled off the press.

A. W. S. Frosh Tea Scheduled For Oct. 2

First associated Women Student's tea for the incoming students will be held Wednesday, Oct. 2, at the Santa Ana Ebell club house, it was stated by Mrs. Eleanor Northcross, advisor of the organization. More definite plans will be made later under the direction of Dorothy Coe, new president.

Mrs. Northcross, dean of women, stated also that she and any of the officers of the club will be glad to help any of the women students in any way possible. Mrs. Northcross' office is situated opposite the east entrance of the main office in College hall.

The new officers for the coming semester will be Dorothy Coe, president; Eunice Spicer, Vice-president; Helen Wilkie, Secretary and treasurer. The officers are members of the Gitanas, Spinster, and Meninas organizations respectively.

Plaza City To Send Many Students To Jaysee

More than 30 Orange high school graduates are expected to enroll here today, it was revealed by Miss Mabel G. Whiting, registrar.

A tentative list of returning students includes Esther Thomas, Cora Alice Powell, Elizabeth Lowry, Albert Clark, Duncan Clark, and Vernon Mansur.

Freshmen expected to enroll are:

Tell Tavern Tattlers' Accomplishments

Outstanding among accomplishments of the Tavern Tattler literary societ ylast year was the publishing of First the Blade, an anthology of California collegiate verse.

Membership in the Tattlers is based on interest and creative ability and members comprise the staff of the Tavern Post, a volume of Santa Ana junior college literary articles.

Eleanor Walter was editor of First th eBlade andhad as assistant Reed Sutherland as business manager. The volume is published annually by various colleges and contains the pick of poetry from California colleges.

Some of the club's social activities are beach parties which were held last year at Dana Point and an annual banquet in May. The

So This Is College

There is a refreshing note in the story of the sophomore at Birmingham-Southern college (Birmingham, Ala.) who finished writing the last page of a tiresome history examination, then wrote at the bottom: "If you have actually read this far, I will buy you a drink." When he got the paper back, the unruffled professor had lined, "I prefer to confine myself to beer."

The newspapers sometimes use the most superficial arguments to back up a bias about college education. Consider the editorial paragraph in the eastern paper which noted that "a student at Brown university (Providence, R. I.) devoured 20 doughnuts in 18 minutes.

You know perfectly well what the editorial writer added: "Great are the wonders of modern education."

College life once had a tang that make these days seem dull and academic, indeed, if we are to believe the series of stories recently run in the paper at Dartmouth college (Hanover, N. H.).

The author has been telling about the antics of the lads of 50 years ago, which were topped off at a chapel ceremony. As the funereal tones of the organ began their slow beat, a corpse back of the altar was seen to raise and lower its head in time with the music. What made it more awful was the fact that the corpse had been in life a nortorious murderer, whose body had been shipped to the medical school laboratory. Ambitious students had kidnapped it and strung it on wires from the chapel ceiling.

ZOUNDS

It was at Fordham university (New York City) that the zoology professor announced all students in his class would participate in a test to determine whether microbes were transmitted by kissing. On the day set, attendance was perfect.

Then what did the man do? He gave each person a little pad of sterilized cloth with instructions to kiss it and daub it on a microscopic slide.

There has just been a contest in progress at New York university (New York City) which many a college boy and girl the country round would have gladly entered. It was for authors.

A scholarship was offered to the unpublished author who turned in the finest collection of rejection slips! Some added points were given, we understand, for words of encouragements which accompanied the rejections.

Law students at Indiana university (Bloomington) were challenged by the medical students to one of those "donkey baseball" games which are so popular now. They refused the challenge on these grounds: "We would be at a disadvantage. The medics have more jackasses than we have."

John 'Sky' Dunlap Writes For Press Association

John "Sky" Dunlap is today credited with two United Press wire stories that have had world-wide distribution. His copywrited articles about Sir Malcolm Campbell and his famed "Bluebird" racer were printed in the Santa Ana Register last week.

Dunlap, a former Santa Ana junior college student, was editor of El Don while a student here. Previous to that he had served as sports editor and editor-in-chief of the Santa Ana high school Generator. In addition to his editorial duties Dunlap found time to serve as president of the Associated Students for one semester and to act as Longfellows prexy for one year.

After graduation here Dunlap served as editor of the Daily Trojan. From the metropolitan institution he went to the Santa Ana Register in the capacity of police reporter.

Opportunity

The great American tradition in education is that every individual have opportunity at education to the full extent of his ability to benefit thereby. The junior college in California is the effort of the community to extend this opportunity two years further than heretofore to all of you who wish to take advantage of that opportunity. Realizing, then, that you understand this background, we are heartily welcoming you with full confidence that you will justify the community effort to offer to you this privilege. New facilities, new courses, new and additional quarters have been provided for you during the summer. You will have the full time and attention of an administration and a teaching faculty devoted entirely to your interests. We wish to do everything possible to make your attendance here a happy and profitable experience, and we welcome you whole heartedly to this association—FRANK A. HENDERSON, Superintendent of Schools.

New Courses Are Announced Here

Seven new courses have been added to the curriculum at Santa Ana junior college, it was announced today by D. K. Hammond, jaysee director.

Bacteriology, a course required for student nurses, will be added in the science department. The physiology course has been changed to a five unit class and will be offered the first semester. Both subjects will have a fee of $2, approximately one-half of the amount at other state institutions, Director Hammond said.

Frederick H. Schroeder, graduate of U. C. L. A. and the University of California at Berkeley, will instruct these classes included in the pre-nursing curriculum. Students who complete the pre-nursing work at Santa Ana junior college will be admitted to the Orange County hospital to complete their training.

Four Hour Course

Vocational printing will be offered at the junior college Fine Arts press under the direction of Thomas E. Williams. The class will meet four hours daily, from 12:30 to 4:30 p. m. and International Typographical union lesson courses will be used. The class will be open only to high school graduates and students may proceed as rapidly as possible. Certificates will be issued for each unit of work completed. English and mathematics as related subjects will be taught at the print shop.

A course in modern feature writing will be offered during the second semester by John H. McCoy, journalism instructor. It will be an advanced study in newspaper work.

Instrumental quartet work will be instructed by Leland Auer and will carry degree units. Ernest C. Phillips, who will teach public speaking as well as drama this year, will offer a new course in extempore speaking.

Acquire New Building

Costume design will be offered in the art department by Miss Frances Egge and will include actual commercial instruction. The arts and crafts classes will be offered this year on the junior college campus in Bungalow C, just north of the main art studio. Miss Lucinda Griffith, new instructor at jaysee this year, will be in charge of these classes.

Bacteriology Given With Pre-nursing Curriculum

In connection with the installation of a complete pre-nursing curriculum in Santa Ana junior college, $2000 has been expended by the school to date to equip what is generally termed the best bacteriology laboratory in the southland.

Bacteriology, an entirely new course to local students, is being offered this year as part of the pre-nursing course and will have as instructor, Frederick Schroeder, newly appointed science man who comes from a teaching position at Williams institute.

In previous years students wishing to sandwich the bacteriology course in their schedule were obliged to sign for the course in Santa Ana and then make a daily trip to an inland town for their classroom and laboratory work. All accredited schools of nursing except those in the San Francisco and San Diego areas now require one year of this type of work for college admission.

Sun Dial Gift From '34, '35 Classes

Continuing the annual custom of presenting a gift to the school, the graduating classes of '34 and '35 this year granted funds for the erection of the sun dial now located on the brick walk just south of College hall.

According to Claude Owens, class prexy for the '35 graduates, the '34 grant was held up because officers of that class did not wish before the then uncertain date of the jaysee had been decided. Money from that year was simply transferred to the '35 account.

Alumnus Enters School Of Aeronautics

Jack Hawkins, '35, has entered the Curtiss-Wright Technical Institute of Aeronautics at Grand Central Air Terminal in Glendale. Hawkins is enrolled in the Institutes' aeronautical engineering course which he will complete next July.

A. S. Ticket Sales Expected To Be Largest Yet

More Associated Students tickets are expected to be sold at Santa Ana junior college this year than ever before because of the action of the Santa Ana Board of Education in reducing the fees and deposits for classes, according to Charles Roemer, president of the Associated Students for the coming semester.

The tickets will go on sale Monday, September 9 at the price of $7. Money from the sale of these tickets is used to support student activities, including sports, Fiesta day, publications, and social activities. Students must become members of the Associated Students by purchasing these tickets before they can participate in any sports, hold any office or belong to service clubs.

Seasonal Library Expenditures Total $2700

More than $2000 has been expended this year for new literary additions to the Santa Ana junior college library, it was learned from Miss Lillian L. Dickson.

This amount is the annual budgeted expenditure for the local library. As averaged by the commerce department, the library is allotted about $3 per student. In addition to buying books the library annually takes new subscriptions to magazines that might be used for reference material.

Quarters of the library were enlarged this year when more space on the second floor of College hall was given over to house the new books. About $700 was spent to complete the alterations.

BY JOHN RABE

Editorials being for the express purpose of interpreting news, this column intends to translate, without satirical salvos, the happenings of interest and import to junior college students.

Perhaps the idea uppermost in the minds of incoming freshmen is the question "What will college be like?" Junior college is the intermediate step between old high school haunts and the frigid realms of university life. You will find junior college to embody the warmth and friendship that was so characteristically high school and the advantages for a higher education formerly thought available only in a larger university.

There are, to be sure, certain restrictions that will be placed upon peagreens. The seemingly ardorous task of wearing a seemingly insipid beanie and carrying a seemingly useless handbook will probably decrease as the days pile upon one another. The beanie is the sign of a class of which you should be proud and the bible will turn out to be the educational key to college life. Embodied in the bible are all the principles and ideals of Santa Ana jaysee. Again you are admonished to read it carefully. As was once so aptly said: "Read your bible and don't ask so many foolish questions. It is a guide to junior college activities. Use it as such."

Perhaps this penchant of frosh to ask questions may some day be done away with, but the reaching of this doubtful Utopia depends entirely upon the determination of the former high school senior to take away from college more than he put into it. The realm of human knowledge is diverse and their is no reason for being "picayunish" about education. Adapt yourself to the new environment as soon as possible and make the most of the fellowship and understanding offered by instructors.

All that a freshman need remember is that he was formerly a very big frog in a very small pond, while from today on he is but a very small frog in a very large pond.

Local History

Looking back one cannot help but applaud the foresight of those pioneers who made Santa Ana junior college the beautiful reality it is today. Twenty-one years ago it had 25 students. If enrollments live up to advance indications the students this year should number near 750. As it gradually grew apart from the old high school there was a feeling that perhaps a separate campus would be a good thing for both institutions.

This dream became a fact last year when the high school was completely "Reno-vated" and received its final divorce decree. Today you see a beautiful campus on the spot that was formerly a local eyesore. The work of Director Hammond and Superintendent Henderson saw its fulfillment with the allotment of government funds to beautify the campus. Surely the work that has been done on the North Main street "lot" has more than lived up to expectations.

Harken—Frosh!

There is but one request that the faculty would make of new students. Do not bank too heavily on the sundial to get you to class on time. That old gag about "The sun must have been a little late" will work further up-state—not in the Orange belt.

* * *

The death of two Santa Ana boys in one week from airplane accidents of the same nature leads one to wonder if motor manufacturers will ever reach the peak of perfection that seems to have graced the flying creations of Glenn Martin. Trained by Martin's brother on the latter's South Main flying field, Fred Burlew met death because of mechanical cause unknown.

Psychoanalysis Of A Freshman

By Dr. R. U. Buggles
(World authority on paroniacs)

Subject: An examination into, an appreciation of, the mores and eccentricities of a typical freshman.

Appearance: In appearance the specimen may be said not to be unattractive physically. A small red cap, referred to in the slang vernacular as a "beanie" greatly enhances their physical beauty. Although they outwardly act ashamed of them, their inner desires show a fascination for these "beanies".

Eccentricities: The specimen clutches desperately to a small frosh bible and a catalog. From time to time he thumbs vigorously through these in a studious attitude. This is merely to keep up appearances. He is really unconscious of what it is all about.

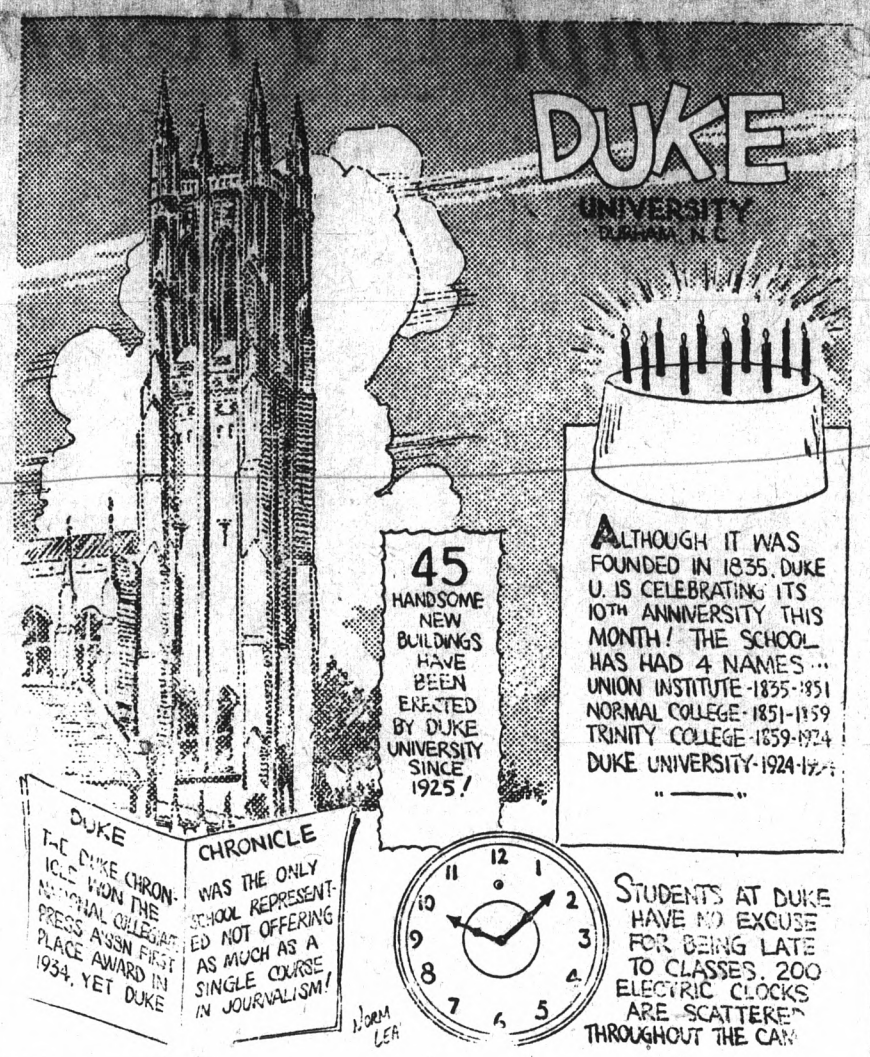

L'Amour: An interesting case. The majority of the specimens are divided into small clannish clusters. Occasionally a male of the species saunters alone through the various groups to give the once over to his fellow classmates—mainly of the opposite sex. The "freshette" or female specie have prepared to ensnare such lone stags. Emergency proportions of paint and powder are added to the face. The orbs are made to look large and luminous. The general appearance and expression is heightened and the results are often amazing.

Miscellaneous mental attitudes: Specimens possess active though misdirected imagination. Have fantastic idea of college and college life.

Treatment: The case is not entirely hopeless: In most every case there is a chance for cure, although some never recover. It is best to humor many of their misdirected thoughts. However, the strictest discipline is suggested. They should be made to obey the letter of the law. If these steps fail, the freshmen court will be sure to bring them to. The period of treatment has been known to take anywhere from two weeks to two months.

Notes To You Too, Frosh!

Herewith is contained advice to the lovelorn. Or to pea greens, both conditions result in the same symptoms of dementia praecox.

Don't believe the sundial. After living in a fog all your life you should know solar time is always inaccurate.

Ventilators in the rooms of College hall are not to be tampered with. Hot air for these cold mornings will be provided at recitation time.

Those two shacks to the side of College hall are for the convenience and exclusive use of sophomores. Any frosh found within two blocks will be personally introduced to Mae West.

I Saw it in El Don

Air-a-graphs

By Vic Rowland

(Time references given as p.m.)

Are ya listenin'? Herein, weekly, we will attempt to give you the lowdown on the ethereal happenings of the times. Here's this week's dose:

That gelatin sponsor is turning his suave comedian, Jack Benny, loose again on the NBC airlanes every Sunday commencing Sept. 29 at 7:30 through KFI. His wife and stooge (what wife isn't?) Mary Livingston, will be around to make life miserable for everyone including the audience, by reading her poetry. Frank Parker and "Play Don" Bestor have left the Benny fold this season and will replaced by Michael Bartlett, tenor and Johnny Green's orchestra. Bartlett is a new name around the air ways, but he promises plenty . . .

Here's a hot one: Don Voorhee's NBC orchestra will accompany Lawrence Tibbett on his new CBS program. That's not all. The feature will be sponsored by Packard and released in Southern Calif. by KHJ, the Cadillac station. There's nothing like competition, no? . . .

Jimmy Wallington, Ford Bond, and Kelvin Keech have left the NBC announcer's fold and are now free lancing. Wallington will appear with his old pal, Eddie Cantor when the latter returns to the microphone on Oct. 6. Should be a pleasant reunion . . .

Phil Regan, late of the films, has signed a contract with NBC for a group of sustainers starting next month . . .

Air stars on celluloid: James Melton and Jane Froman in "Stars Over Broadway"; Fred Allen, Phil Baker and Paul Whiteman in "Thanks a Million"; Jack Benny, "Let Freedom Ring" (how can it with that guy around?); and Rudy Vallee in "Let's Pretend". No promises, but don't be surprised if Vallee follows Ozzie Nelson at the Grove, L. A. . . .

Joan Crawford of the cinema will appear as guest star on the Lux Radio Theatre, Oct. 14 . . .

First, it was Ray Noble and his boys from merry old England. Now another popular dance organization, Jack Hylton's, is coming to the States. He'll be due here Oct. 21. Broadcasts will originate in Chicago, via the CBS net . . .

Time out for air.

Students at the College of William and Mary (Williamsburg, Va.) can't engage in airplane activities unless they have permission from the college authorities.

Scholarships Awarded Six Prominent Jaysee Students

In addition to the scholarships awarded the past presidents of the Associated Students, four other student leaders are this year leaving for school on tuitions awarded for conspicuous work along their chosen lines.

Robert Tannenbaum will journey east for his higher education. George Robertson will be accompanied by Lucian Wilson, ace Don timber-topper, when he enrolls at the Trojan institution. Wilson, track captain last season, is expected to help the war horse when the next cinderpath battles roll around.

Press Gets Two

Journalism scholarships were awarded to John E. Pegues and Fredda Sawtelle. Pegues, former editor of El Don and last year's Del Ano editor, won the University of Southern California award and will take a journalism major at that school.

Miss Sawtelle, another former El Don editor, plans to enter the University of Redlands September 16. Her scholarship was won for scholastic achievements.

John Henderson, Associated Student vice-president and outstanding dramatic artist, will attend Occidental college. Although Henderson was particularly conspicuous in his acting ability, he will enroll for a pre-medical course at the metropolitan school.

Tustin Thespians To Present Comedy

By Will Shakespere

Several J. C. students and grads have gone dramatic during the summer and are taking part in a 3-act comedy, "Jonesy" to be given at Tustin Hi school September 27.

It is the story of an irresponsible young college freshman who is getting into one scrape after another, and his bewildered family who try to keep him out of trouble. This will be the first 3-act play given by the Thespians, an organization made up chiefly of students who have graduated from Tustin high school and have been active in the drama department under Miss May Rose Borum, Tustin instructor.

Selecting a cast early in the summer, rehearsals have been held for several weeks in the houses of the different members of the cast. J. C. students and alumni included in the cast are: Charles Kiser, Martin Bowman, Rachael Jones, Lucille Griset, Stanley Wilson, James Doyle and Marie LaBrucherie. Norman Mennes, active in J. C. drama presentations last year, is club director.

Found in a blue book at the University of Maryland (Baltimore)—"Dear Professor: If you sell any of these answers to the humor magazines, remember I want my cut."

Pre-registration figures for 1935-36 at the University of Notre Dame (Ind.) are about 20 per cent higher than last year.

Varied Activities Promised New Students

Campus tours, examinations, assemblies a luncheon and a dance and a host of other activities promise to provide diversity for the more than 300 new students who will receive traditional Spanish hospitality during the annual Freshman Days.

According to L. L. Beeman, faculty worker on Freshman Days committee, every effort has been made to make the first days both interesting and instructive to those students who need to become more fully acquainted with college proceedure before the opening of regular class periods on September 16.

Local service clubs will have charge of all activities as will be noted upon inspection of the complete calendar published on page 3. The Moavs and A. A. E. will handle hospitality Monday morning with the Meninas and Buccaneers laying plans for the free luncheon to be held Monday noon.

Hammond To Speak

D. K. Hammond, director, will speak Monday on "College Opportunities." Another speech will be made by Charles Roemer, Associated Student president. Alumni talks will be given by former men and women students.

Monday afternoon, incoming frosh will either take the aptitude test in CH 110 or will be examined by Dr. B. F. Mock in E 101.

Tuesday morning's program will feature introduction of the college's dean of women and dean of men. Mrs. Eleanor Northcross, noted southland educator, holds the former position while Calvin C. Flint will advise the men.

In the afternoon, students not taking the Subject "A" examination in CH 110, will report for their physical examination in E 101.

At the student assembly to be held Wednesday, all student officers for the coming semester will be introduced. In addition to this feature the afternoon's activities will be augmented by short speeches by Miss Zena Leck, women's athletic instructor, and Bill Cook, head coach.

After the assembly, a dance for all students will be held in the east lobby of the gymnasium, located on the northwest corner of Sycamore and Church streets. The dance will be under the direction of the Spinsters and the Junior Lions.

Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of Wireless telegraphy, is now professor of electro-magnetic waves at Rome university.

Board Executives Hold First Meeting

Under the direction of the new Associated Student president, Charles Roemer, new members of the college executive board held their first meeting of the year last Friday in College Hall. Plans for the coming semester were formulated.

Members of the board are Charles Roemer, president; Louise Sexton, secretary; Charles McWaters, treasurer; Mary Lou McFarland, social commissioner; Allan Mackay, commissioner of men's athletics; Betty Lee, commissioner of women's athletics; John Rabe, El Don editor; Edna Wilson, Del Ano editor; and Al Markel, commissioner of forensics.

Now located on the roof of the Board of Education building, Santa Ana junior college's weather bureau will begin operations and observations the first week of school, it was learned here today.

Started last season under the supervision and direction of H. O. Russell, the weather bureau will be operated by science students whose work will consist of making daily observations and compiling the data acquired.

The equipment in use is essentially the same as last year. A thermometer for the determining of the maximum and minimum daily temperatures has been installed. In addition to the thermometer a wind guage and rain guage will be in operation. A sling psychometer, or wet-and-dry bulb will also be used. This delicate instrument measures the daily dew point and humidity.

Student Mail Will Be Distributed From Lettered Boxes

Continuing the system installed last year, student mail will again be distributed this semester through the use of the bulletin board placed near the south entrance of College hall.

Mail will be circulated to the student through the section of the bulletin board marked with the initial of his last name. Instructor's mail will be delivered through their boxes in the main office.

Say, "I saw it in El Don."

Cook Discloses Football Schedule

Lettermen Number Nine In Return To Gridiron Practice

Nine returning lettermen represent the sum total of experienced football talent with which Bill Cook will attempt to build another gridiron machine that can compare with those of previous years.

Dick Moore, sophomore flash from Huntington Beach, is slated to be first string fullback unless some frosh can unleash him from an apparently secure seat. Moore's powerful running plays were a feature of games last season. Until the time of his injury the Oil city lad was a sure gainer through the line.

"Chuck" Roemer, pivot man and substitute guard, may not check out a suit today. It is said that the position he now holds as A. S. prexy will take most of his spare time.

Farmers to Work Again

"Nellie" Rogers, Tustin lad who made tackle post his first year, will probably fill that position again. Rogers was a mainstay of the strong Cook forward wall of last season.

Harold Pottorf, western import from the wind-swept plains of Kansas, was a substitute end and guard on the '34 eleven. This boy has not been seen in Santa Ana since last June, but is expected to enroll soon.

Harold Youel, brother to the Youel brothers of Trojan fame, has another year of eligibility ahead of him. This younger edition of the famous family was center on the last year's aggregation and was noted for his uncanny ability to nail slippery passes during aerial attacks.

Bruce Martin, another center, may enroll at Whittier. It was rumored that he might attend the metropolitan school, but he may decide to return to his alma mater for further exercise.

Ground Gainer Back

Bruce Harnois, sparkplug of Cook's near championship squad of last season, received honorable mention for all-conference quarterback. His flashing off-tackle drives won the plaudits for him. Always good for yards, Harnois will have a lot to do this season.

Walt Hickman, chili-picker from Garden Grove, will be counted on to display his usual rare form as a blocking half. The inland lad can usually be counted on to gain yards as a ball packer.

Major (Sir Malcolm) Anderson, is another fleet-footed boy who can be counted upon to gain yards. His presence as a substitute quarterback will help bolster up the backfield.

Provided Moore, Hickman, Harnois, and Anderson all return, Cook should have a fast, shifty backfield. If Bill Greschner is added to the lineup, further power will be provided by the Harbor flash.

Men Students To Have Personal Lockers

With the installation of a new locker system in the men's gym comes word that all men students will now have their own personal locker and will be required to keep all their gym equipment in the space provided for them.

In previous years baskets containing the clothes were kept in the basket room. This inefficient system has been replaced by a set-up that promises to place responsibility for missing goods on the shoulders of the individual.

As before, gym classes will meet twice a week and will be under the direction of Bill Cook, famed Don mentor. According to Cook, towels will still be issued from the basket room for every gym period. School locks to be placed on the lockers may be secured this week.

New Mentor

AL REBOIN—comes straight from the University of Southern California to assume teaching duties as assistant to Bill Cook.

CUT COURTESY SANTA ANA REGISTER

Reboin Appointed To Athletic Post

Al Reboin, former Trojan football player and stellar Saint quarterback, has been appointed by the Santa Ana Board of Education to assist Bill Cook in the managing of a sports curriculum here.

Reboin, direct from the University of Southern California, majored in physical education work and is well qualified for the post he will take.

The stocky assistant coach will replace Blanchard Beatty, former basketball head, who has accepted a position as head coach at Oceanside high school. In addition to turning out a hoop quintet, Beatty helped Cook with his gridiron machine.

Reboin will be best remembered locally for his feats on the great Santa Ana high school football aggregation of '30. In that year, under the guidance of Gerald "Tex" Oliver, the snappy Saint squad swept aside all opposition to nab the Southern California football crown. "Audacious Al", as Reboin was called, proved to be the sparkplug of offensive plays with his brilliant ground-gaining runs.

Jaysee Men Help Win Softball Crown

Junior college baseball talent this season helped the local B. P. O. E. chapter to annex the city soft ball crown in the Los Angeles Examiner's softball tournament.

Two basemen ,a chucker and a catcher played regularly on the Elk outfit. Bob Schwarm guarded the second base position and performed wel lall through the season. Dave Styring, another Padre, covered the initial sack and is reputed to be one of the best first basemen in the city .

Other Dons who competed with the Elks were Catcher Cliff Lee and Armand Hanson who alternated between the mound position and his regular spot in right field. Lee was a regular member of the Don battery last year and will probably receive first call next season. Hanson has never played on a junior college team, but is expected to don suit in the spring.

To usurp the city gonfalon the Elks squad downed the 20-30 club by a decisive score in the crucial game of their duties. The last victory leaves them in a position to compete in Los Angeles against stronger opposition .The winner of the Examiner tourney will be adjudged softball champ of Southern California.

Tom Lacy, stellar twirler of the '34 Don outfit, played for the 20-30 club. His moundwork was generally smooth and he pitched good ball in all but the final series struggle.

Football Practice To Be Held At Bowl This Year

Football practice this year will be held at the Santa Ana municipal bowl, it was announced today by Bill Cook, Don grid coach.

The season will officially start at 1 p. m. today when football suits will be issued to aspiring pigskinners. According to Cook the suits will be given out at the high school gym. The high school grounds are situated between Walnut and Camille streets and Ross and Parton streets.

Until the present night softball series is completed, practice will be held on the high school turf, Cook continued. After the diamond scrimmages have ended it will be possible to lay out a football field on the Olive street layout.

Eight Games To Be Played On Home Field; Six Under Arcs

Reputed to be the best schedule that local jaysee football circles have seen in many years, Bill Cook this week plunges into intensive practice preparations for another gridiron season.

Six of the scheduled fracases will be played under the arcs. Five of these will see action on local turf when the two elevens will line up in the Municipal bowl.

Eight, or two-thirds, of the games will be played at home. This means that the Padres will have to journey only four times during the entire season. This should result in an appreciable saving.

Two of the featured tilts will be with Fullerton, perrenial Turkey Day rivals, and the Riverside Bengals. Last season Fullerton wanted to spoil the Don's chances for a pennant, but their plans were thwarted and the local machine came out on the long end of a 6-0 tally.

The inland rivals got some measure of satisfaction when they saw Riverside's Roaring Bengals slash the Santa Ana team to shreds.

The complete 1935 schedule:

Sept. 20—Pasadena here (non-conference night game).

Sept. 27—Pomona college varsity here (non-conference night game).

Oct. 4—U. S. C. Freshmen here (non-conference night game).

Oct. 11—Riverside here (night game opening Eastern conference season).

Oct. 19—Citrus here (night game).

Oct. 26—Chaffey at Ontario.

Nov. 2—San Bernardino there.

Nov. 8—U. C. L. A. Freshmen here (non-conference night game).

Nov. 16—Pomona there.

Nov. 23—Oceanside here (non-conference game with reserves, tentative).

Nov. 28—Fullerton here (Thanksgiving day).

Dec. 7—Play-off between Eastern and Western divisions on Western champion's field (tentative).

Lucian Wilson Aims For Trojan Track Position

Hurdler Lucian Wilson, captain of Santa Ana junior college's 1935 track team, runner-up to Riverside for the Eastern conference title, has turned Trojan.

Awarded an athletic scholarship, Wilson will enter U. S. C. this month, report to Coach Dean Cromwell next spring for the first of two years of cinderpath instruction from the famous mentor.

Wilson climaxed an enviable two-year record with the Dons by establishing a new Southern California jaysee record of 23.9 seconds in the 220-yard low hurdles in Los Angeles this season. Previously, he was clocked in 14.9 and officially in 15 flat in the 120-yard highs. He was always good for 10 to 15 points in dual meets by competing in the dashes and broad jump—in addition to his favorite hurdle races.

A well-built, rangy boy with powerful legs, Lucian should develop into one of the finest hurdlers on the coast. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, 1322 South Birch street, Santa Ana.

Fielding H. Yost, director of athletics at the University of Michigan, and A. A. Stagg, football coach at the College of the Pacific, were recently given the silver buffalo, highest honor extended by the Boy Scouts of America.

If the 9,000,000 persons of college age in the nation who are now working were removed from their jobs in industry and sent to college, it would solve much of the unemployment problem," —Amos W. W. Woodcock, president, St. John's college (Annapolis, Md.)

Junior College Faculty Adds Five New Members to Roster

With the addition of five new members to the faculty, Santa Ana junior college this year offers its students one of the most complete curricula of any lower division school in the west.

Miss Lucinda M. Griffith entered the Santa Ana public school system in 1931 after graduating from Pomona college in 1926 and continuing with graduate work at the University of California at Berkeley. Miss Griffith's classes will be held in Bungalow C. This new addition to the school will house the arts and crafts courses.

Miss Grace M. Knipe, English instructor, received her A. B. from Stanford in 1919 and did graduate work at the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Southern California. Having taught in the Santa Ana public schools since 1931 she comes to the junior college highly recommended.

New Physician

Dr. B. F .Mock will replace Dr. Murray Bates who has decided to enter private practice. Dr. Mock comes from a position at San Juan Capistrano and will have charge of the physiology, zoology, and hygiene courses.

Frederick H. Schroeder, coming from a teaching position at Williams institute, will have charge of the new bacteriology course. He received his A. M. from the University of California and did graduate work at the U. of C. Medical school.

Robert S .Farrar comes direct from a teaching post at the local high school and will teach orientatation and debate. His able handling of the high school debate squad last year won him the promotion to a junior college post. He will replace John H. McCoy who will devote all his time to journalism courses.

Printing Course To Offer Lectures, Field Trips

Thomas E. Williams, director of the Santa Ana junior college Fine Arts press, today announced that his course on printing appreciation called The Art of the Book, will this semester include at least five field trips to be made to points of typographical interest.

At present Williams is planning a trip to the famed Huntington Library at San Marino. According to the local instructor many ancient and rare volumes of printing are housed in what is generally accepted to be one of the most unique and complete collections in the world.

To Visit Bindery

Other trips will include a visit to the new plant of the Los Angeles Times and a probable stop at the Weber-McCrea bookbindery. One lecture is slated to be given in an engraving house while another will have its setting in a lithographing plant.

Williams also plans to have outside men, noted for their knowledge of printing, come and lecture to his classes. This season he plans to have an even greater retinue of guest speakers.

According to Miss Paxton, no books will be given for credit. Cash is necessary for a purchase. The books can be reserved for two weeks by the payment of a small deposit which will be returned if the purchase is not made.

Decker, Miller Given Leaves Of Absence

Miss Dorothy Decker and Miss Agness Todd Miller, instructors at Santa Ana junior college since 1929 and 1926 respectively, have been granted leaves for this year. Miss Decker will be absent the first semester, and Miss Miller the entire year.

Miss Decker is an instructor in merchandising. She is a graduate of Pomona college and did further work at the University of Southern California. She taught in Anaheim, Long Beach, and San Bernardino, and also studied merchandising in Los Angeles, Boston, and New York city before entering Santa Ana schools in 1929.

Miss Miller, who is an English instructor in junior college, attended Park college and the University of Chicago, doing her graduate work at the University of California at Los Angeles, the University of California, and Oxford university, England. She taught at Park college and in Kansas before coming to Santa Ana junior college.

Roemer Issues Annual Beanie, Bible Edict

Charles Roemer, president of the Associated Students ,today issued the annual Beanie, Bible edict to freshmen.

Acording to jaysee tradition frosh must not appear on the cam' pus for the first weeks of school minus either their bible or their beanie. Violators of the custom will receive punishment meted out at one of the regular jaysee assemblies.

Name Officers In Service Clubs

With the opening of another college year, eight jaysee service clubs under the leadership of new officers will begin to function in carrying out the ideals and purposes of their respective organizations.

Bachelors

The Brotherhood of Bachelors, organized in 1925, was the first service club on the campus. Officers for this year are Vernon Mansur, grand exalted; Al Markel, senior exalted; Bain Alexander, junior exalted; Bill Dunston keeper of the writ; Dick Moore, bouncer; and Frank Boyd, stoolie. The big event of the Bachelor's year is their annual ball which was held at the Mission Inn last season. The Galeria room of that Riverside hostelry was used for the occasion.

Buccaneers

Members to the Buccaneers are chosen for their leadership, scholastic ability, and achievements. Officers for the semester are Harold Woodard, president; Bill Dolan, vice-president; John Rabe, secretary-treasurer; Harold Pottorff, boatswain. Thomas E. Williams is adviser.

Moavs

The Moavs have set as their ideals loyalty and service to the college, promotion of good fellowship among its students, and the maintenance of friendship and fidelity among its members. Officers are Phyllis Hannah, president; Alsa Thompson, vice-president; Esther Heemstra, secretary; and Betty Ryherd, treasurer. Misses Mabel G. Whiting and Mary Swass are advisers of the organization.

Spinsters

Rendering service and promoting friendship among the students is the purpose of the Sisterhood of Spinsters. Supreme Spinster this year is Mary Lou McFarland. Other officers are Barbara Crawford, subsupreme spinster; Frances Was, treasurer; Valerie Demetriou, secretary; Margaret Sawyer, pledge mistress. Mrs. Velma Sundquist is the adviser. Membership in this club is limited to 33 and is based upon one's ability to help in college activities.

Las Gitanas

Las Gitanas, which means "The Gypsies," is led this semester by Jean McAuley, newly elected president; Marguerite Hay is vice-president; Alice Compton, secretary; and Mildred Goodwin, treasurer. The adviser is Miss Carol Erskine. New members are chosen for willingness to cooperate and to be of service to the school. An annual student loan benefit is the outstanding activity of the club.

Junior Lions

Junior Lions is a protege of the nationally known Lions club and was organized for fraternity, friendship, and loyalty. The president this year is Maurice Lycan; Stanley Wilson, vice-president; Francis Davis, treasurer; Richard Hewitt, secretary; Charles Roemer, lion tamer; and Nelson Rogers, tail twister. Adviser of the group is George B. Holmes.

Los Gauchos

La Compania de los Gauchos was organized as a service club embodying the principle of fellowship, social activity and service to the school. Name and traditions of the club were derived from the Gauchos of South America. An outstanding event of the college sponsored by the club last year was the Penny Fair. Proceeds from the event are used to furnish the lounges.

Gaucho officers this year include Harris Warren, president; Lewis Wetherell, vice-president; Nolan Hasson, secretary; Kenneth Nissley, treasurer; Ray Foster, sergeant-at-arms.

Las Meninas

Members of the Las Meninas have as their individual aim to become a well-rounded college student in scholastic ability, leadership, and society. Officers are Mary Wallace, president; Beatrice Granas, vice-president; Betty Lee, secretary; and Elsie Kox, treasurer. Miss Genevieve Humiston is adviser.

El Don Heads List of Jaysee Publications; Del Ano Second

El Don, weekly publication of Santa Ana Junior College, always takes an active interest in the affairs of the students on the campus, not only the organizations, but in the individuals as well.

Last year the paper won many awards, placing second in the best front page and best all-around paper divisions and first place in the feature division at the jaysee press convention held at Los Angeles jnuior college. Further awards were won at the Junior College Press convention at Padua Hills.

Del Ano, the year book, is the one book that all students look forward to with the greatest of interest. The college year is faithfully recorded in Del Ano containing also pictures of the graduating sophomores, clubs, athletic teams and other organizations.

The Tavern Post, edited by the Tavern Tattlers, literary society, contains poetry and prose selections written by students on the campus. It is in magazine form.

El Diario, daily bulletin may be found at the entrance to the locker rooms. Everyone should make a practice of reading the announcements contained in this small sheet. All announcements for El Diario must be placed in the box in the office designated for that purpose by 12:00 the day preceding their desired publication.

Will Change El Don Distribution Time

Continuing publication in its present five column size, El Don will this year be distributed at 10 a. m. Friday morning instead of during the noon hour. The practice carried out in previous years was found to be unsatisfactory and the new delivery hour is hoped to prove more convenient for students and staff alike.

John Rabe, advertising manager last year, succeeds Jane Crawford as editor of the college weekly. Collegiate Digest, rotogravure section distributed weekly with El Don, will be continued throughout the school year, it was learned today.

Assisting Rabe with the first issue were Frances Was, associate editor, and Charles Kiser, advertising manager. All staff positions are subject to change and final announcements will be made about Oct. 1.
